

HIGHER HISTORY

Employers know the skills you have learnt in History will equip you well in whatever line of work you take up.

History is seen as a valuable qualification in many jobs - Law, Journalism, Broadcasting, Accountancy, Architecture, the Civil Service, Libraries, the Museum Service.

Higher History is a valued entrance qualification for any course at university or college.

History can also create an interest and enjoyment which stays with you throughout your life.

The Higher History course is based around essay writing and source handling skills.

Entry requirements

Grades A or B at National 5 level.

The Higher course consists of 3 units:

- Scottish History. Migration and Empire 1830 - 1939
- British History. Britain 1851 - 1951
- European and the World History. Appeasement and the Road to War, to 1939

At Higher, the course assessment consists of 3 components: a unit assessment for each unit must be passed, an assignment worth 33% of the final mark must be completed and the final exam paper.
